

Week 2: Diet

Sunday: Chocolate Chip Cookies

(a recipe by zuckerjagdwurst.com)

The second week of your eco-challenge is almost over. You can reward yourself with some delicious, soft chocolate chip cookies. They are easily made and work perfect with an afternoon tea or coffee. Enjoy and bon appetit!

Ingredients:

- 200 g flour
- 90 g sugar
- 125 g plant-based butter
- a little salt
- 8 g vanilla sugar
- 1 teaspoon backing powder
- 2 tablespoon apple sauce
- 150 g dark chocolate chunks
- if you like: nuts (for example: walnut or hazelnut)

1. In a big bowl mix all ingredients (except the chocolate chunks and the nuts) until you can form a big ball.
2. Add chocolate chunks (and nuts if you like) carefully.
3. Preheat the oven to 180 °C. Form 18 little balls á 35 g and spread on two backing trays. Leave some space between the balls.
4. Bake for 12 minutes. When taking them out of the oven, the cookies will still be very soft. If you like you can flatten them a little. Let them cool down on a backing tray, afterwards carefully place them on a plate.
